Temporary Employment Program

OVERVIEW

The University employs temporary employees to meet short-term and intermittent workload needs.

The University hires temporary employees for the following purposes:

- Ongoing part-time work
- Extra work required for a work load peak
- To complete a special project, or a cyclic work load

Temporary employees, as referred to in this section, are also known as hourly, piece work, or time slip employees.

Limits

The University may only employ temporary workers for a maximum of a specified number of hours in a given period of consecutive months. These limits are provided below for student and nonstudent employees.

Consecutive Months Defined

A period of consecutive months begins with the effective date of appointment. The period ends on the day preceding that date any number of months later.

Replacing Civil Service or Collective Bargaining Unit Employees

Temporary and student employees may not be hired to replace civil service or collective bargaining unit employees who are laid off due to lack of funds, lack of work, organizational changes, or termination of project employment.

STUDENT EMPLOYEES

Definition of a Student

For purposes of temporary employment, a student is one who is enrolled at WSU for six or more credit hours during the entirety of a fall or spring semester and/or for three or more credit hours for the entirety of at least one of the summer sessions.

Students enrolled for less than six credit hours during fall or spring semester or for less than three credit hours for a summer session who receive financial aid are also considered students.

Summer Session Student Employee Status for Benefit Purposes

For purposes of benefit monitoring and eligibility only (see Benefits), an employee who meets one or more of the following criteria is considered being a student employee over the summer session, regardless of whether or not he or she is enrolled in summer session classes:

- Enrolled at WSU for six or more credit hours during the entirety of the preceding fall and spring semesters (and did not graduate at the end of spring semester).

- Enrolled at WSU for six or more credit hours during the entirety of the preceding spring and following fall semesters.

Summer Session Graduate Student Employee Status for Benefit Purposes
A graduate student participating in the Continuous Doctoral Status program may also be considered to be a student employee over the summer session for purposes of benefit monitoring and eligibility only (see Benefits).

Refer to the Continuous Enrollment for Degree-seeking Students section in Chapter 5 of the Graduate School Policies and Procedures Manual:

gradschool.wsu.edu/chapter-five-a2/

Maximum Hours
The law limits student employment to a maximum of 516 hours worked in any six consecutive months, excluding hours worked during the summer and other academic year holiday breaks. (WAC 357-04-040)

WSU academic holidays are periods when school is not in session. Academic holidays include time in November, December, January, and March and from semester-end in May to the start of the fall semester in August.

F-1 Status
Foreign students who hold F-1 nonimmigrant status are limited to 20 hours of work per week while school is in session. Contact International Programs—Global Services for more information.

Exceptions
The following types of students are exempt from the hours limitations, in accordance with WAC 357-04-040:

- Student body officers or student organization jobs such as student officers or student news staff members.
- Students employed in jobs that are directly related to their major fields of study and which provide training opportunities.
- Students in documented and approved internship programs that consist of academic components and work experience.

Notice of Conditions
Employers must give all student employees written notice of the conditions of their employment prior to the commencement of each appointment and/or upon any subsequent change to the conditions of their employment. See BPPM 60.27 for information regarding the Conditions of Employment form.
Temporary Employment Program

Affordable Care Act (ACA) Employers must give all student employees a copy of the ACA Employer Notification, which provides notification to employees and their households of the benefits offered through the University as well as notification of the ACA Health Insurance Marketplace. Employers are to provide this notice within 14 days of employment (see BPPM 60.27). The notice is available from the Human Resource Services (HRS) website at:

hrs.wsu.edu/aca/

Work Study The work-study program pays 60 percent of an employee's gross salary. The employing department pays the remaining 40 percent.

If a work-study student's employment exceeds eligibility in terms of gross earnings or dates of eligibility, the employer is required to pay 100 percent of the noneligible wages.

Hiring departments may consult the following sources for information about workstudy allocations for student employees:

- Online Temporary Employment System (TEMPS)
- HRS for information about TEMPS training and access; telephone 509-335-4521.
- DEPPS Administrative Information System
- BPPM 85.33 for information about Administrative Information System access.
- Office of Financial Aid and Scholarships

See the Office of Financial Aid and Scholarships website at:

NONSTUDENT EMPLOYEES

Maximum Hours

Nonstudent temporary employment is limited to 1,050 hours of employment in any 12-consecutive-month period. (WAC 357-04-045, WAC 357-19-435) (See Consecutive Months Defined.)

Monitoring Begin Date

Start counting hours on the Monitoring Begin Date. The Monitoring Begin Date is always the first day of the pay period in which an appointment begins, i.e., the first or the sixteenth.

More Than One Position

Hours worked in all temporary positions that an employee holds at WSU count toward the total hours worked. If an employee has one temporary employment position and accepts another, the hours from both WSU temporary positions count toward the total hours the employee may work during one year.

Overtime

Overtime hours are not included in the 1,050 hours.

Remedial Action

Violations of temporary employment hours limitations can result in remedial action. Remedial action is the awarding of a permanent civil service or collective bargaining unit position, which may include retroactive salary, benefits, and seniority. (WAC 357-19-450)

Remedial action may occur when the temporary employee's appointment does not comply with state temporary employment regulations, i.e.:

- The employee works in one or more temporary employment positions for more than 1,050 hours in any 12 consecutive months since the employee's Monitoring Begin Date. (NOTE: Overtime and hours worked as a student are not included in the 1,050 hour limit.)

- The position is subject to state civil service regulations.

- The employee is not part of a willful failure to comply with state regulations.

In order to pursue remedial action, the employee must file a written request for remedial action with the Office of the State Human Resources Director within 30 calendar days of the effective date of the alleged violation. (WAC 357-19-448)

Notice of Conditions

Employers are required to give all nonstudent temporary employees written notice of the conditions of their employment prior to the commencement of each appointment and/or upon any subsequent change to the conditions of their employment. (WAC 357-19-444) See BPPM 60.27 for information regarding the Conditions of Employment form.

Affordable Care Act (ACA)

Employers must give all nonstudent employees a copy of the ACA Employer Notification, which provides notification to employees and their households of the benefits offered through the University as well as notification of the ACA Health Insurance Marketplace. Employers are to provide this notice within 14 days of employment (see BPPM 60.27). The notice is available from the HRS website at:

COMPENSATION

Pay

The rate of pay for temporary employees is based on the Temporary Employment Classification and Compensation Plan. Copies of the plan are available in the following locations:

- HRS; telephone 509-335-4521
- HRS web site:
  hrs.wsu.edu/
- Online TEMPS

Temporary employees are paid on a positive pay basis. See BPPM 55.26 and 60.61.

Overtime

Employment of temporary employees is subject to the Fair Labor Standards Act, which requires that employees be paid at a rate of one and one-half times their normal rate for work in excess of 40 hours in a single workweek.

Workweek Defined

A normal workweek is the period from 12:01 a.m. Sunday to midnight Saturday.

Benefits

Refer questions regarding benefit eligibility to HRS.

Retirement

Nonstudent temporary employees who work 70 hours or more per month for any five months in a 12-month period are eligible for retirement plan participation and are required to participate.
Temporary Employment Program

Retirement (cont.)
Temporary employees may also participate in the Voluntary Investment Program. If interested, contact HRS.

Insurance
HRS monitors insurance benefit eligibility in accordance with the Health Care Authority rules. Nonstudent temporary hourly employees can become eligible for employee insurance benefits in the following ways.

Averaging Work Hours Over Consecutive Six Month Period
A nonstudent temporary employee who works for more than six months and averages at least eighty hours per month and works for at least eight hours in each month is eligible for insurance benefits at the beginning of month seven. NOTE: The employee must report a minimum of eight hours worked in month seven in order to receive the insurance benefits.

A nonstudent temporary employee who establishes eligibility for benefits must work a minimum of eight hours each month or the employee loses benefit eligibility. An employee who loses benefit eligibility must reestablish eligibility.

Anticipating Work Hours Over Consecutive Six Month Period
An employee is eligible for insurance benefits from the date of initial employment if the employing department anticipates that the employee will work for more than six months and average at least eighty hours per month and work for at least eight hours in each month. If not initially eligible, and if the anticipated work hours are revised and the employee meets the eligibility criteria noted above, the employee becomes eligible for insurance benefits the first of the month following the effective date of the revision. Notify HRS regarding revisions to anticipated work hours.

A nonstudent temporary employee who establishes eligibility for benefits must work a minimum of eight hours each month or the employee loses benefit eligibility. An employee who loses benefit eligibility must reestablish eligibility.

Recurring Seasonal Employment
A nonstudent temporary hourly employee who performs similar type work on a recurring seasonal basis and averages at least eighty hours per month with at least eight hours in each month of the season may become eligible for seasonal benefits. A season is identified as a period as short as three consecutive months that recurs on an annual basis.

After establishing eligibility, the nonstudent temporary hourly employee is eligible for benefits during the recurring seasonal period provided that she or he works each season performing similar work. In the event that there is a season in which the employee does not work or the work performed is substantially different, the employee loses benefit eligibility and must reestablish eligibility.

Workers' Compensation

All temporary employees are covered by workers' compensation.

Unemployment Compensation

Nonstudent temporary employees are covered by unemployment compensation.

Department Costs

Departments must pay the cost of Public Employee Benefit Board (PEBB) medical, dental, life, and long-term disability insurance and PERS II or PERS III retirement coverage for qualifying nonstudent temporary employees.

Benefits Not Received

Temporary employees do not earn annual leave or a personal holiday. They are not paid for holidays.

Student temporary employees are not covered by unemployment compensation or the employee insurance benefits.

CHILD LABOR

Before employing a minor (anyone under 18 years old), contact HRS for review and authorization to employ the minor.

See also Supervision of Children.

Parental Consent

The employing department is responsible for securing parental consent before hiring a minor. The department obtains a Parents/School Authorization for Employment of a Minor form from the State of Washington Department of Labor and Industries website at:

lni.wa.gov/workers-rights/youth-employment/how-to-hire-minors

The department completes the top portion of the form and routes it to the minor's parent for authorization. After the parent returns the signed form, the department retains the authorization in the employee's departmental personnel file.

Age Limit

WSU units are not authorized to employ anyone under 16 years of age. In extreme circumstances permission to hire 14- and 15-year-old individuals may be granted by HRS on an exception basis. The department must submit a detailed written exception request approved by the applicable dean or vice president to HRS prior to any employment. HRS reviews the request and makes a determination whether employment is authorized.
Temporary Employment Program

SUPERVISION OF CHILDREN OR VULNERABLE ADULTS

Background checks are required for positions with duties involving the supervision, care, and/or treatment of children, vulnerable adults, or individuals with mental illness or developmental disabilities. (RCW 43.43.832) See also BPPM 60.16.

WSU EMPLOYEES IN TEMPORARY EMPLOYMENT POSITIONS

Faculty and Administrative Professional Staff

If a WSU faculty or administrative professional employee accepts a temporary employment position, the restrictions governing extra compensation apply. For faculty employees, see BPPM 60.44 for specific restrictions governing extra compensation.

Administrative professional employees are to coordinate temporary employment with HRS since such employment may affect civil service and/or Fair Labor Standards Act exemptions.

Civil Service Employees

If a civil service employee accepts temporary employment, hours worked on the temporary employment assignment are added to hours worked on the civil service assignment for overtime purposes.

Overtime-eligible employees earn overtime pay at a rate of time and one-half for hours worked in excess of 40 hours in one week.

Collective Bargaining Unit Employees

An employee covered by a collective bargaining unit agreement must refer to the applicable agreement for restrictions governing temporary employment and for reporting procedures.

NOT TEMPORARY EMPLOYMENT

The following are other employment terms that may be confused with temporary employment appointments as described in BPPM 60.26 and 60.27.

Faculty and Administrative Professional Staff

Regular appointments to faculty and administrative professional positions may have an appointment end date but these appointments are not considered temporary employment appointments (see BPPM 60.25).

Faculty Timecard

Faculty and administrative professional employees who perform duties or services that are clearly beyond what is reasonably expected in the performance of regularly-assigned duties may hold faculty timecard appointments. Faculty timecard appointments are not considered temporary employment appointments (see BPPM 60.42).
Temporary Employment Program

Civil Service and Collective Bargaining Unit Employees

Probationary/Trial Service Appointments

Probationary and trial service appointments are not temporary employment appointments. These employees are completing the training and evaluation period within a permanent civil service or collective bargaining unit position.

Grant and Contract Temporary Appointments

Employees appointed to duties included in a civil service or collective bargaining unit position job description for 20 or more hours per week for more than six months are civil service or collective bargaining unit employees regardless of the source of funds or a specific termination date.

Assistants

Students with appointments as teaching, research, or staff assistants are not on temporary employment appointments.
