Facility Design Review Policy

The Washington State University Vice President for Finance and Administration, or designee, is responsible for design review of all facilities for:

- Aesthetics,
- Quality of construction, and
- Conformance with the Master Plan and Construction Standards.

This responsibility includes all new construction, remodeling, and rehabilitation at all campuses, experiment stations, and satellite facilities of Washington State University.

All work that affects the exterior aesthetic character of the University must be submitted for review to Facilities Services, Capital. Review comments are to be incorporated into the work.
