OVERVIEW

Temporary hourly employees accrue paid sick leave (PSL) for all hours worked, including overtime, in accordance with RCW 49.46.200 and WAC 296-128-620.

For purposes of this policy, temporary hourly employees are non-student, student, and work-study employees. The calendar year is January 1 through December 31.

Leave Accrual

Temporary hourly employees begin accruing PSL on the first day of a new appointment. PSL accrues at the rate of one hour for every forty hours worked, including overtime hours. Hours worked do not include PSL hours used. WAC 296-128-620

PSL is calculated each pay cycle. Employees may use accrued PSL on the first day of the month following accrual.

Employees and department personnel administrators may view available PSL balances in Workday. See the Workday View Time Off Balances reference guide.

Unused accrued PSL of 40 hours or less must be carried over to the following calendar year. Any unused accrued PSL over 40 hours as of December 31 is lost.

Reporting Leave

Overtime-eligible temporary hourly employees report sick leave used on the Absence Calendar in Workday. See the Workday Request and Correct Time Off reference guide.

Temporary hourly employees must notify their supervisor as soon as reasonably possible when absent because of illness, injury, or other reason for authorized use of PSL as set forth under Authorized Use of PSL.

For absences exceeding three days, the University may require written medical verification that the employee's use of PSL is for an authorized purpose, provided that the verification does not result in an unreasonable burden or expense on the employee. (RCW 49.46.210(1)(b) and (c)) Employees have the right to assert the verification requirement results in an unreasonable burden or expense on the employee. The employee may provide an oral written explanation. (WAC 296-128-660 (4)) Employees must provide any such required verification within a reasonable time period during or after the leave.

PROCESS

Administration

PSL is paid at the hourly rate that an employee earns for the shift in which PSL is used.

If an employee has more than one job, the cost of PSL is charged to the department budget associated with the appointment in which PSL is used.

Hours worked are counted towards the accrual of PSL for students receiving work-study. Payment of PSL cannot be charged to work-study funds. The PSL is charged to the department budget associated with the work-study appointment.

Temporary hourly employees record the number of hours worked and PSL hours used each workday in the Workday Time Entry calendar. See the Workday Enter and Correct Time (Employee) reference guide.

Separation and Re-employment

Unused accrued PSL is not paid out when a temporary hourly employee separates or their appointment ends.

A temporary hourly employee's unused PSL is reinstated and is available for use the first day of a new appointment if the employee is rehired within 12 months of separation into a temporary hourly position, overtime eligible civil service position, or an overtime eligible AP or Faculty position.

Notification to Employee

Employing departments are required to provide the following documentation to each temporary hourly employee no later than the first day of the employee's appointment:

- Conditions for Temporary Employment document, and
- Written notice of entitlement to PSL.

(WAC 296-128-760 and WAC 357-19-444)

The department should provide the Conditions for Temporary Employment prior to the first day of each appointment and upon any subsequent change to the conditions of the employee's employment. The department must retain the original signed document in the department personnel file. See BPPM 60.26.

RETALIATION

Washington State University may not interfere with, restrain, or deny the exercise of any employee right provided under or in connection with RCW 49.46. (WAC 296-128-770).
